Theresa Weston Saunders
DEBTOR

U.S. BANKRUPTCY COURT
DISTRICT OF MARYLAND
GREENBELT

Case No. 17-17022

CHAPTER 13

DEBTOR'S MOTION FOR DISMISSAL AND DISCHARGE OF BANKRUPTCY CASE

Comes now, Theresa Saunders, DEBTOR, hereby respectfully presents and submits to this Honorable Court a Motion for Dismissal/ Discharge of her bankruptcy case due to extenuating circumstances, whereby her case needs to be properly reorganized and presented with the inclusion of property issues that will impact her development of a proper financial position, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. SECS 362 and 1301, which is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. SEC.157. and for reasons states as follows:

ONE

That Theresa Saunders as the DEBTOR respectfully request this dismissal based on inadequate representation and counselling that has not fairly allowed for the necessary preparation and organized presentation of her financial situation to this court. On Thursday, May 3, 2018, Debtor was informed that Trustee had not received the numerous documents Debtor had submitted to her former legal counsel for transmission to Trustee in response to the list of outstanding issues cited by Trustee in her Objection to Confirmation.

TWO

That DEBTOR filed a motion to release former legal Counsel as DEBTOR's bankruptcy Legal Counsel for unreconcilable reasons, which was approved by this court on January 8, 2018. Since that time, Debtor has sought new Legal Counsel, while submitting required legal documents and attending hearings as required by the District of Columbia Superior Court and the District of Columbia Appeals Court.

THREE

Debtor recognizes she needs legal counsel to properly present and organize her financial position in presentation to the bankruptcy court. Debtor is not knowledgeable in the legal requirements and complexities of the bankruptcy laws for clear presentation of her issues in this case. Debtor needs to reorganize her case with proper Legal Counsel assistance prior to rushing into filing bankruptcy without organized planning and strategy.

FOUR

Debtor recognizes that necessary preparation and overview of the requirements for clear presentation of her financial position was not provided by counsel prior to filing of this case. Further, Debtor recognizes there was not timely transmittal of information as requested by the Trustee, although information was submitted by Debtor for transmittal.

FIVE

Debtor needs legal counsel to assist in the complexity of the two property issues that will significantly impact her financial position by $250,000 to $500,000 within the next 60 days. Debtor recognizes the complexities of outstanding issues for these two real estate properties require legal counsel for presentation of financial impact in this bankruptcy court.

SIX

Debtor recognizes she need Legal Counsel to present the impact of the first property located at 2042 Ft. Davis Street, SE. – a condominium previously owned and titled by Debtor was transferred and untitled from Debtor in a wrongful foreclosure. After two years of legal procedures, the District of Columbia Court of Appeals is preparing to review the Appellant's Brief, Appellee's Reply and Appellant's Rebuttal to that Reply. On May 30, 2018, District of Columbia Court of Appeals will have a hearing (with optional oral presentation) on whether the Homeowner Association was properly served and if the foreclosure required a judicial hearing and therefore was invalid. The DC Court of Appeals has ruled against this HOA previously on this same issue based on HOA's bylaws which mandate a judicial hearing prior to foreclosure. The HOA did not file a complaint for a judicial hearing. The Debtor has provided affidavits of process service, including a certified receipt of mail signed by the HOA manager. Debtor anticipates the DC Court will rule the foreclosure invalid. This property is valued at $200,000. The property is being rented at $1,645 per month. The monthly mortgage is $323, which is being paid to this bankruptcy court.

The decision on the title for this property will finally be determined within the next 30-60 days and will greatly impact Debtor's financial position.

SEVEN

DEBTOR recognizes Legal Counsel is needed to present to this court the impact of the second property located at 1125 Bellevue Street SE. During a two-year divorce proceeding that ended in 2000, Debtor's ex-spouse and GMAC collaborated secretly in an agreement to evade distribution of equity in the Maryland divorce court and negotiate a sale of the property for the ex-spouse and his new wife. Both GMAC attorney and the ex-spouse informed Judge Whelan in the Maryland court that the property had been foreclosed and no equity was available. Six years later, Debtor was informed property still existed thru a telephone call from Judge Duncan-Peters, presiding over a foreclosure hearing of the property in the District Superior Court. The bankruptcy of GMAC prevented Debtor from resolving the mortgage issue for another two years. Eventually, a new law firm contacted Debtor about the property and she took out a loan on her primary residence and paid off the mortgage balance in 2007. After that payment, Debtor found a Consent Agreement and Deed in the house whereby GMAC had reduced 50% of the mortgage due on the property. Therefore, Debtor had overpaid the mortgage balance. In 2007, the former GMAC attorney (who had collaborated with the ex-spouse) extended the foreclosure lawsuit in the District of Columbia courts to increase the mortgage balance to include attorney fees incurred during his negotiations with the ex-spouse in 2002. In 2010, this attorney collaborated with Debtor's ex-spouse to amend the lawsuit to have the consent agreement and deed declared invalid in order to initiate new foreclosure proceedings. In 2012, GMAC went bankrupt and the account has been transferred to four companies between 2012 to 2017, without accountability of the pay-off of the original mortgage balance. In 2013, the District Superior Court reviewed all aspects of the foreclosure case since 2006 and ruled the deed and consent agreement were valid. Judge Kravitz ordered the case remanded to Maryland as a matter of the original divorce court resolution. Current account management company, Rushmore Management, has refused to resolve this account and refused to believe that an African American female took out a $100,000 loan and paid off the mortgage, despite copies of cashier's checks paid at that time.

Current mortgage servicing company, Rushmore Management has refused to comply with District of Columbia Court order to title property in Debtor's name only. This action has prevented Debtor from receiving $1,835 per month in rental fees.

Rushmore Management has stated there is no equity in this property. Debtor has submitted District tax assessment records to this bankruptcy court refuting this claim and reflecting a value of $272,000 for the property.

EIGHT

DEBTOR has been submitting required legal documents and attending hearings as required by the District of Columbia Superior Court and the District of Columbia Appeals in court cases for two properties that will significantly impact the financial position of Debtor in this bankruptcy court.

DC Court of Appeals: (August 15, 2017) Appellant Brief and Appendix
(March 23, 2018) Appellant Rebuttal to Appellee's Reply
(May 30 2018) Hearing in DC Appeals Court

(January 2018) Temporary Default Judgment for Plea of Title
(February 2018) Opposition to Defendant's Motion of Good Cause
(Defendant not participating in 15 months)
(March 2018) Hearing for default judgment
MD Bankruptcy Court: (April 30 2018) Hearing for Lifting Stay for Bellevue Street
(May 8, 2018) Submission of DC Superior Court docket to confirm
Court Order in 2013 overrode Court Order of 2009
DC Landlord and Tenant Court (December 2017) Discovery Documents due
(December 2017) case put on hold

Debtor respectfully submit and request dismissal of this case for pursuit of legal counsel to properly present and organizes financial position for bankruptcy and strategies in accordance with bankruptcy laws.

Respectfully submitted,
